

44 SHORTHAND.—Stringer (Nathaniel): Rich Redivius; or, Mr. Jeremiah Rich's Short-Hand Improved in a more briefe and easy method than hath been set forth by any heretofore. Now made publique for general Advantage by Nathaniel Stringer, a Quondam Scholar to the said Mr. Rich. William Marshall and John Marshall, (1695). Engraved portrait by William Cross and title and text engraved on copperplates, printed on one side of the paper only. 8vo, original wrappers. UNCUT. VERY RARE. £5 5s

It is almost impossible to decide when Rich Redivius was first published. Editions are entered in the Term Catalogue from June 1694 until 1707. They are probably all undated and all appear to be published by William and John (or Joseph) Marshall. Those with William Marshall's name only may be the earliest, but in the Term Catalogue an entry is made of an edition with both names in between two editions with only William Marshall's name. The fact that they are engraved from copperplates would enable the etcher to deface and recut the imprint from time to time. The above has all the appearance of being printed in the Seventeenth Century.

This is an important book for the Walton collector as it contains a poem by Isaac Walton to the author.

To the Ingenious peruser desirous to Learn the Most usefull Accomplishment of Short-Writing

Since the Decease of my quondam Master M<sup>r</sup> Jeremiah Rich I have taken noe small pains to Reduce his Incomparable art into a more easy and Expeditionous method soe that the meanest Capacities may learn it in a uery short space bestowing but one hōwers Time in a day provided they will but heedfully observe the Rules that are set before them and proceed orderly, Learning one Rule thoroughly first, before they goe to the next, which they may well afford to doe, since the whole is Contrived with soe much plainenesse and Brevity, as might neither Clogg y<sup>e</sup> memory nor put the Vnderstanding upon the Racke, it was not first attempted with any thoughts of coming to publique View, But seeing that severall have highly pretended and Endeavoured to Bring it to something Extraordinary wherein yet their pains hath hethereto-in my apprehension failed of that success which the world expected I have therefore for the Authors sake and the Regard I beare to his memory and Excellent Art ventured this small peice to seeke its fortune a mongst the rest in which I have wholly built upon his Foundation not endeavouring to overthrowe his Ingenious structure, but only add thereunto more Beauty and ornament, and though very many Considerable Improvements have been made, as the Iudicious will soon discern yet I have soe Designed it, that the New Testament and Psalmes which are printed in M<sup>r</sup> Richs Character, may bee read perfectly by those that shall Learn only this, and such as have Learnd another method already may yet find much help from this for their further Improvement both as to exact Reading and ready-writing and therefore desiring the Ingenious practitioner to accept of my Good will heerein I rest

An unfaigned Lover of Art

RICH REDIVIVUS

Vanish dull Scriblers with your Long Short-Hands
Or Scraml on still what noe man understands Your tedious methods soe perplext and darke
They are out-run by every Limping Clarke
The Art is Rescued from such Bungling hands
And new Displayd in full Meridian Stands Words Homer says have wings, but now wee find The Fleeter Pen Leaves them to Lagg behind Smifter than Towing Eagles snatch their prey Or full blowne Sails glide on their pathlesse way Quicke as an Angell darting through the Air
When he Convoys to Heaven a good mans prayer
With equall pace Can the Rare Art Expresse

Each quaint Oration in its native Dresse
The fluentst sermons word for word wee Reache Though uttered faster then the Quakers preach Ingenious Rich Discoverd first the Mine
But Stringers skill has stampd it Current Coyne
One Laid the plat-form, but the other Lent
More Light Clear method and new Ornament
And Now thy Worthy Work Compleat wee See
And pay our Equall Thanks to Rich and thee.

RICH REDIVIVUS

Had I the happy Genius to Endite
In lofty Verse as fast as thou canst write I might not then perhaps despair to Raise A worthy Monument unto thy Praise
That might in Smooth and well Tun'd numbers tell How much thy pen all others doth Excell
But being dull I can proceed noe Higher Then to approve thy Labours, and Admire
The Magicke of thy Industry Alarms
The silent Ghosts, who yeeld unto its Charms By honest Negromancy here wee have Ingenious Rich raised from his Slumbering Grave Who though surprizd is yet Content to see His Art Revid, Improvd out done by thee Whose pains makes gratefull Brevity to Vye
In these few Leaves with perspicuity
The whole soe short, and yet soe plainely pend
The dullest Brains thy Ruler may Comprehend
The use of such rare Art Various worth Deserves wholle Volumes for to sett it forth
It preserves secrets from the Curious Eye Saves tedious pains, Releives the Memory
And Clipps Tymes wings, for thus transcribe wee may More in one hower, then others in a day
The Heavenly Seed which powerfull Preachers sowe By help of This is made more like to Growe
For Manna gather'd thus, Lasts many ayere Which else too oft is lost by the treacherous Ear Then on my friend, Regard not Criticks Rage
But with thy Booke oblige our slothfull Age Though Envy fret and barke and disapprove
The Good and Just will pay Applause and Love
